GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS.

PRECAUTIONS TO BE OBSERVED ON THE APPROACH OF CHOLERA.

A.—Sanitation.

1. Every house must be duly cleansed of all sweepings, refuse and dirt of every description, filthy water, manure, washing from cattle-sheds and stables, etc., must be completely removed

2 All damp and foul earth should be removed and replaced with clean dry earth.

3 The interior and exterior of houses should wherever possible be whitewashed. If persons cannot afford to whitewash the outside walls, the inside ones at least should be whitewashed. In the case of the indigent poor, the Cholera Inspector should undertake this work as a part of the disinfection work

4. Doors and windows should be always kept open in order to secure free ventilation.

5. All rags, torn mats, gunny bags, old baskets and such other articles of insignificant value should be destroyed by burning. Windows and other apertures for light and ventilation should not be blocked up or screened over.

6. All latrines, urinals and house drains should be thoroughly cleansed every day and flushed with cresol (1 in 300) or other disinfectant lotion.

7 The contents of cess-pools and soak-pits or catch-pits should be emptied daily.

8. The surroundings of every house should be maintained in a scrupulously clean condition.

D.—The Person.

9. The body and clothing should be kept scrupulously clean. Baths should be taken daily. Persons in delicate health should bathe in warm water in preference to cold.

10. The food should be simple, nourishing and of good quality and should be freshly cooked. It should be eaten as soon after it has been cooked as is possible, and after the hands and feet have been well washed and the mouth rinsed freely with fresh water.

11. All articles of food and drink should be kept suitably covered to prevent access to flies and dust.

12. Food which has become cold or stale and all indigestible articles should be avoided.

13. All raw vegetables or leaves, over-ripe or under-ripe fruits likely to cause diarrhœa should be avoided. They should never be eaten unless they have been cooked. Salt should be used with the diet in sufficient quantities. Acid drinks such as lemon squash are useful as a preventive.

14. Bazaar sweets and similar cooked or uncooked articles of food sold by hawkers should not be eaten. Milk, buttermilk and vegetable obtained from places where cholera is prevalent should be looked upon with suspicion and should be rejected unless they have been well-boiled or cooked.

15. All water for domestic use should be obtained from the best possible source under the advice of the health authorities. It should be boiled for at least 15 minutes and placed in a clean pot suitably covered; and it should be protected from exposure and dirty hands and vessels should not be dipped into it. No water other than that which has been well-boiled and cooled should be used for drinking, cooking purposes or for cleansing vessels, plates, etc.

16. Drastic purgatives should be avoided when cholera is prevalent.

17. Any tendency to diarrhœa should at once be checked by appropriate treatment under medical advice. Persons who have had more than two loose motions in 24 hours should immediately apply to the village headman or the nearest medical practitioner or the Cholera Inspector for advice and treatment.

18. Drugs containing opium and its alkaloids should be strictly avoided especially at the onset of diarrhœa.

19. Excessive drinking, irregular meals, late hours, exposure to wet and cold and everything tending to produce bodily fatigue should be avoided.

20. Panic at times of cholera outbreaks is to be avoided and should be overcome by every means possible. People should be encouraged to face the outbreak and to help individually and communally in its early suppression. All exaggerated accounts of the disease should be prevented.

21. Every person and especially those who have been in contact with cases of cholera, should seek at once preventive inoculation. The pain or inconvenience is trivial compared to the protection afforded.

22. Every case of cholera or severe diarrhœa should be reported forthwith to the village headman (or in his absence to the karnam) and local medical officer, if any, in order that the necessary preventive measures may be adopted without delay.

C.—Precautions to be adopted when there is cholera in a house.

23. Every fresh attack of cholera or acute diarrhœa should be notified by the householder or the medical attendant to the village headman (or in his absence to the karnam) and local medical officer, if any.

24. The patient should, in his own interest, be removed with the least possible delay to an isolation hospital if one is available within a reasonable distance.

If this cannot be done,

(1) he should be isolated in the best ventilated apartment or room in the house;

(2) all superfluous bedding and clothing should be removed;

(3) all vomit and excreta should be carefully collected in a chatty containing raw dust or paddy husk mixed with a little reseol or kerosene oil and should be burned without delay. This is the surest means of destroying the millions of cholera bacilli contained in them. Burial of infective matter should, as far as possible, be avoided, but where unavoidable it should be done far away from human habitations and drinking water sources;

(4) rags and clothing soiled by vomit and excreta should be similarly burned;

(5) clothing and other articles of value brought in contact with the patient should be soaked in cresol lotion for half an hour and then boiled in water for fifteen minutes and dried in the open sun. They should on no account be washed in or near a source of water-supply or be sent to the dhobi until they have been well disinfected;

(6) if any discharges are vented on the ground, straw should be burnt on the affected spot and the spot itself well washed in cresol lotion.

(7) not more than one person should be allowed to attend on the patient. No relatives, friends, or visitors should be permitted to enter the sick room;

(8) no one should eat, drink or chew in the sick room, on leaving the room they should wash their hands in disinfectant lotion and rinse their mouths freely with fresh boiled water;

(9) utensils, cups, plates and similar articles which have been used in the sick room should not be put to general domestic use unless and until they have first been placed in disinfecting lotion and then in boiling water for at least fifteen minutes;

(10) efficient medical treatment should be obtained with the least possible delay. The earlier the treatment is begun, the greater are the chances of recovery and the less are the risks of the spread of disease;

(11) the whole house and the patient's room in particular with all its contents should be thoroughly disinfected. The house walls should be lime-washed after the patient's recovery or death; and

(12) no feasts and feasts and no congregation of guests as part of the funeral ceremonies in the event of the case proving fatal should be permitted.

25. The village headman shall carry out the duties imposed on him by the Village Officers' Manual, departmental orders and regulations and shall render every possible assistance to the health authorities in carrying out these instructions.

26. The officers of the Medical and Public Health Departments shall, in carrying out the preventive measures, enlist the co-operation of the villagers by means of lectures, magic lantern demonstrations and other modes of propaganda.

Bill No. 13 of 1936.—Madras District Municipalities (Amendment) .. .. Page 263

Bill to be introduced in the Council of the Governor of Fort St. George assembled for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations.

Under rule 18 of the Madras Legislative Council Rules, the following Bill together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons, is published for general information:—

BILL No. 13 OF 1936.

A Bill further to amend the Madras District Municipalities Act, 1920, for certain purposes.

Madras Act 7 of 1920.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Madras District Municipalities Act, 1920, for the purposes hereinafter appearing;

AND WHEREAS the previous sanction of the Governor-General has been obtained to the passing of this Act;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Madras District Municipalities (Amendment) Act, 1936.

Amendment of section 131, Madras Act V of 1920.

2. Sub-section (4) of section 131 of the Madras District Municipalities Act, 1920 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act) shall be omitted Madras Act V of 1920.

Amendment of section 132, Madras Act V of 1920.

3. Sub-section (2) of section 132 of the said Act shall be omitted and sub-section (1) of that section shall be renumbered as section 132.

Insertion of new section 132 A in Madras Act V of 1920.

4. After section 132 of the said Act, the following heading and section shall be inserted, namely :—

"Payment for water

132-A. (1) For all water supplied under section 131 or under section 132, payment shall be made on such basis, at such times, and on such conditions as may be laid down in the by-laws made by the Council, and shall be recoverable in the same manner as the property-tax

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such by-laws may—

(a) in cases of supply for domestic consumption and use, lay down the maximum free allowance to be made and the rates of charge to be levied in respect of water supplied in excess of such allowance; and

(b) in cases of supply whether for domestic consumption and use or for other purposes, or any class of such cases, lay down that the charge for water supplied shall be based on the number of taps allowed, irrespective of the quantity of water consumed."

Orders under section 132 (2) of Madras Act V of 1920 to have effect as by-laws.

5. All orders, whether general or special, issued under sub-section (2) of section 132 of the said Act before the commencement of this Act shall, notwithstanding anything contained either in the said Act or in this Act, be deemed to have the same force and effect as by-laws made under the said Act as amended by this Act.

Validation of certain by-laws, orders and agreements.

6. Where before the commencement of this Act, a municipal council makes a by-law under sub-section (4) of section 131 of the said Act, or issues any general or special order under sub-section (2) of section 132 thereof or enters into any agreement with any person for the supply of water and such by-law, order or agreement provides for the levy of a charge for the water supplied on the basis of the number of taps allowed, irrespective of the quantity of water consumed, the same shall be deemed to be valid, notwithstanding anything contained in the said Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Section 131 (4) of the Madras District Municipalities Act, 1920 (Madras Act V of 1920), lays down that for all water supplied in excess of a maximum determined by by-laws made by the Council, payment shall be made at such times and on such conditions as may be laid down in such by-laws. Certain municipalities have been permitted to make by-laws adopting the tap-rate system under which no free allowance of water is provided for and all water consumed is charged for solely on the basis of the number of taps in each premises. Doubts have been raised as to the validity of these by-laws. The object of this Bill is to remove such doubts and to validate all by-laws, orders and agreements, based on the tap-rate system, which have been made, issued or entered into, before its provisions take effect.

2 The opportunity has been taken to bring section 132 of the Act which deals with the supply of water for non-domestic purposes into line with section 131 which deals with the supply of water for domestic consumption and use. The former case also will hereafter be regulated by means of "by-laws" instead of by "general or special orders". All orders issued by municipal councils before this Bill comes into force will have effect as by-laws—vide clause 3 of the Bill. Payment due for water supplied for non domestic purposes will also be recoverable, like water supplied for domestic purposes, in the same manner as property tax due to the municipality.
